In medieval France, "madame" was used as a formal, respectful address for noblewomen or women of high social standing. Its usage signified deference and recognition of social hierarchy, often serving as a title of respect in courts and aristocratic settings.

Etymological Evolution and Adoption in Other Languages

In the 17th and 18th centuries, "madame" was also a term of address for married women, akin to "Mrs." in English. This usage reinforced the social importance of marriage and the status of women within the societal hierarchy.
